

An exciting and solid project created with the simplest tools available for producing an energetic track. For this project, all you need is Spire for sound design, and Ozone 8 along with FabFilter Saturn for mastering. This style is currently one of the major trends, widely used by artists on big labels and festival stages due to its high-energy structure. This educational template will guide you on the right path.

Notice: all samples and melodies are royalty free and you can use them in your project or make something different with your ideas!
