

Record Labels, a place where people want their music to end up. Each record label has a sound they look for, and they never usually 2 producers to have the same sound. However, some labels love a certain sound and love producers that fit that sound. Big EDM has just come up with a pack that is a must have if you are wanting to breach a label deal. This pack will show a new sound to the House genre as a whole, and separate your sound from the others.

Big EDM: Monsterpet House is one of those packs that has that beautiful yet intense and grimy sound that the amazing record label known as Monstercat is looking for. Monstercat supports a crazy amount of producers around the world as well as a plethora of genres, they basically have no limits when it comes to EDM. Monsterpet House is a pack derived from a deep and eccentric House music sound that will make you an individual in the House scene.
