

'Slap House Nights' by Immense Sounds features 5 x Top Quality Slap House Construction Kits (WAV/MIDI/Serum Presets).

Slap house, also known as Brazilian bass or bass house, is a sub-genre of electronic dance music that emerged in the mid-2010s. It is characterized by deep bassline rhythms, catchy melodies, and often features pitched-down vocals for a distinctive, "bouncy" sound. This style generally employs a tempo between 120 and 130 beats per minute (BPM), perfect for dance floors and music festivals worldwide. Slap house gained popularity for its energetic and propulsive vibe, often infused with elements from other genres like pop, deep house, and future house. While it originated in Brazil, this genre has gained a significant international following, with notable slap house artists playing at major electronic music festivals and releasing tracks under leading electronic music labels. It is well-regarded for its ability to transform popular tracks into energetic, danceable anthems, making slap house a popular choice for remixes.

In slap house, the 'slap' refers to the crisp, sharp bass sounds that hit or 'slap' on the off-beat, providing an infectious, head-bobbing rhythm. The genre also utilizes spacious, atmospheric elements which allow the heavy bassline to dominate the mix. This synergy between percussive slaps and melodic phrases creates a captivating contrast, forming an irresistible groove. The popularity of slap house reflects a global appetite for bass-heavy music that blurs the lines between the energetic pulses of club music and the catchy hooks of mainstream pop.
