

'Techno – Loops & Ones Shots' by Immense Sounds focuses on 20 Wav loop and one-shot kits.

Techno is a form of electronic dance music that emerged in mid-1980s Detroit, shaped by the “Belleville Three” (Juan Atkins, Derrick May, Kevin Saunderson) and inspired by Kraftwerk, electro, Chicago house, funk, and futurist imagination. Built for clubs and warehouses, it favours a relentless four-on-the-floor pulse (typically 120–140 BPM), drum-machine propulsion (TR-808/909), and synthesizers sequenced into hypnotic, loop-based patterns. Vocals, if present at all, are sparse and textural; the emphasis is on rhythm, timbre, and tension rather than song form. Over time it travelled to Europe—especially Berlin—where labels, clubs, and festivals helped cement its global reach.

Within techno sit many flavours: Detroit’s soulful futurism, acid’s squelching 303 lines, dub techno’s foggy echoes, minimal’s stripped frameworks, industrial and hard techno’s steel-edged impact, and more experimental, polyrhythmic strains. What unites them is a commitment to groove, repetition, and sound design—tracks evolve subtly through filter moves, modulation, and arrangement rather than big melodic hooks. Techno remains a producer- and DJ-driven culture, prized for its immersion and physicality on the dance floor, yet constantly renewed by new tools, aesthetics, and underground scenes.

Each kit contains a Loop Folder, One-Shot Folder, and a mixdown of that kit, everything you hear in each mixdown demo will be in the loops or one-shot folders for example kit one has Bass, 2 x FX, Hi hats, Kick, Shakers, and Synth loops and everything as a one-shot, kit loops and one-shot folders vary in the number of loops & one-shots like some kits have 6 loops and some have up to 11 loops. Types of loops consist of arp bass, bass, claps, cymbal, drone, kick, percussion, hihats, fx Shakers, synths and more.
